

Bachelor of Psychological Science (Honours)

ISN.EDU.AU

Why choose ISN Psychology?

ISN Psychology aims to investigate the basis of character and temperament through the study of psychology, epigenetics, biochemistry, neuroscience and ecology and to apply these findings to improving the health of individuals and societies. Graduates will learn to apply psychology to address challenges of the 21st century.

You will study in a tertiary college that specialises in psychology, where no other faculties compete for funds and resources. With access to organisations like the Florey Institute, you will learn in a highly immersive environment.

DETAILS

Bachelor of Psychological Science (Honours)

The Bachelor of Psychological Science (Honours) is the 4th year or honours year of a psychology qualification (AQF 8).

Prospective students are invited to apply for the Bachelor of Psychological Science (Honours) as the next step toward a postgraduate degree in psychology (e.g., Masters or PhD) or to gain employment in industries that relies on a strong underpinning knowledge of psychology, research and communication skills.

Career Prospects and Pathways

The Bachelor of Psychological Science (Honours) is offered face-to-face at ISN Psychology's Heidelberg campus in Melbourne, Victoria. The degree is accredited by the Australian Psychology Accreditation Council (APAC).

Graduates of the Bachelor of Psychological Science (Honours) are prepared for work in a number of settings through research, psychiatric hospitals, special schools, government, not-for-profit organisations, human resource management, market research and guidance or counselling for educational, vocational or personal problems.

Graduates of the honours program are eligible to apply for associate membership with the Australian Psychological Society (APS). An honours degree in psychology opens up potential possibilities to further your career in psychology. This can be achieved through completion of a two-year professional master program in psychology, or a one-year professional postgraduate program and one year of supervised psychological practice.

At ISN Psychology we offer students with high GPA's at the end of a three year undergraduate degree in psychology, or equivalent, to undertake an interview for the opportunity to be accepted into a combined Honours plus Master Level sequence leading to eligibility to apply for registration as a psychologist.

ISN Psychology is unique in its focus to provide a universal psychological framework for the understanding of human nature to address the challenges of the 21st century.

Eligibility and Entry Requirements

- Entry to the 4th Year Honours programme in Psychology at ISN requires successful completion of an APAC-accredited qualification eg. a Bachelor Degree in psychology, a Bachelor Degree in any discipline plus an APAC-accredited sequence in psychology or a qualification obtained from an overseas education institution assessed as comparable to an APAC-accredited qualification/sequence in psychology.
- Students who completed their first three years of study with ISN Psychology and meet minimum entry requirements will continue on in the Bachelor of Psychology (Honours).
- Students who exited after the third year of study from ISN with a Bachelor of Psychological Science or the equivalent from another institute are eligible to apply for a place in the Bachelor of Psychological Science (Honours).
- Additionally, candidates must meet minimum English language proficiency standards for entry to an AQF level 8 Honours degree.
- Domestic students with Australian citizenship or Permanent Residency rights can apply. ISN cannot currently accept applications for international students.
- The minimum entry for a quota subject may differ each year depending on the applications received. While students who meet the above entry requirements may apply, due to the competitive nature of the course a credit grade point average (60-69%) or higher in the second and third year psychology units of an APAC accredited psychology degree, or equivalent, is expected for entry to the Honours year at ISN.
- A full list of entry requirements for the 4th year Honours degree in Psychology at ISN can be found in Section 3.4 of the Policies and Procedures
